CHAPTER PREVIEW

In this aliyah, Moshe Rabbeinu continues his powerful shirah, calling upon Klal Yisrael to look back at history and recognize Hashem's constant hashgacha. He tells them to ask their fathers and elders to explain the generations of old, showing how Hashem set the very boundaries of the nations of the world with Klal Yisrael in mind.

We then learn of Hashem's incredible love and care for His people, whom He chose as His own portion. The shirah describes how Hashem found us in the desolate wilderness, surrounded us with His clouds of glory, and guarded us with the utmost tenderness, like the pupil of an eye.

All introductions, summaries, and contextual notes are the editor's commentary and are not part of the original text.

CHAPTER SUMMARY

The aliyah begins with the charge to remember the days of old and consult our elders to understand Hashem's guiding hand throughout history, specifically how He established the boundaries of the nations according to the number of Bnei Yisrael. Moshe Rabbeinu describes Klal Yisrael as Hashem's personal portion and allotment, recounting how Hashem protected them in the howling desert waste, carrying them safely and guiding them alone without any other power involved, just like an eagle hovering over its nest and carrying its young on its wings.

לְמַעֲשֶׂה WHAT TO TAKE HOME

The Torah is telling us in this Shirah a tremendous yesod about how Hashem runs the world. When the nations of the world were being established and boundaries were being set, the whole thing was done b'davka with one calculation in mind: "to the number of the Children of Israel." The entire world, with all its massive geopolitical movements and history, is only a backdrop for Hashem's relationship with us. You are "chelek Hashem," His actual portion, and He watches over you like the pupil of His eye.

Sometimes a Yid looks around at the world and feels completely overwhelmed by the noise, the politics, and the sheer size of everything out there. We can easily fall into a coldness, thinking we are just small, insignificant players in a massive world. But the Tanna is teaching us the exact opposite. The entire world is only there to serve as the stage for your avodas Hashem. When Hashem guides you, He does so with the gentle care of an eagle hovering over its nest, protecting its young from above.

This means that whatever is happening in your life today is not a side effect of some random global event or someone else's decisions. Hashem is guiding you personally, "badad yanchenu," with individual hashgacha pratis. Every detail of your day is custom-tailored by Hashem to help you build your connection to Him.

Today, when you hear the news or feel overwhelmed by the busy world around you, stop and remind yourself: "Hashem runs the entire universe just to create the perfect setting for my avodah." Take one minute to speak to Hashem in your own words, thanking Him for His personal, loving hashgacha over your life.

THE SUGYA

We start off on our daf with the Gemara continuing to analyze the source for the mitzvah of reishis hagez, the first of the shearing. The Gemara asks why Rabbi Shimon learns the halachos of reishis hagez from ma'aser behemah rather than from bechor, and then dives into a beautiful shakla v'tarya to find the source that this mitzvah applies davka to sheep and not to other animals like goats or oxen. We explore a gezerah shavah from a pasuk in Iyov, and the Gemara discusses whether the hair of goats or oxen could ever be included based on how they are shorn or what their wool is used for.

As the sugya develops, the Gemara brings in a fascinating discussion about whether plucking or washing wool is halachically considered "shearing." This leads us into a parallel discussion regarding the halachos of leket and peah, specifically looking at the shitta of Rabbi Yosei regarding harvesting with a tool versus uprooting by hand. Finally, the Gemara turns back to our Mishnah to analyze the nachlokes between Beis Shammai and Beis Hillel regarding the minimum number of sheep one must own to be chayeiv in the mitzvah.

All introductions, summaries, and contextual notes are the editor's commentary and are not part of the original text.

עמוד א' DAF 137A

OBJECTION

בְּקִדּוּשָׁה, וּמִכִּירָה – וְהִנֵּה נִפְיִשְׁיוֹ!

The Gemara is asking: But the halachos shared by reishis hagez and bechor are indeed more numerous, as they share the halachos of sanctity and sale, and those points of comparison are more numerous than those shared with ma'aser behemah! Why then does Rabbi Shimon learn from ma'aser behemah?

ANSWER

פְּשׁוּט מִפְּשׁוּט עֲדִיף לִיָּה.

The Gemara answers: To Rabbi Shimon, deriving the halachos of a non-firstborn animal (reishis hagez) from a non-firstborn animal (ma'aser behemah, which applies to any animal passing under the rod) is preferable to him, and this single point of similarity outweighs all the others.

מִשְׁנָה MISHNAH

MISHNAH

רֵאשִׁית הַגִּזְזִי אֵינוֹ נוֹהֵג אֶלָּא בְּרֵחַ לִים.

Our Mishnah stated: The law of the first sheared wool applies only to sheep.

QUESTION

מִנָּה הֵי מִלֵּי?

The Gemara asks: From where are these words derived?

ANSWER

אָמַר רַב חֲסִידָא: אֲתִיָּא גִיזָה גִיזָה,

Rav Chisda said: It is derived by a gezerah shavah of the word shearing written here from the word shearing written there.

EXPLANATION

כְּתִיב הָכָא "וְרֵאשִׁית גִּזְזֵי צֹאנְךָ תִּתֵּן לוֹ",

It is written here regarding reishis hagez: "The first of the shearing of your flock you shall give to him,"

EXPLANATION

וּכְתִיב הָתָם "וּמִגִּזְזֵי כֶבֶשׂי יִתְחַמֵּם", and it is written there in Iyov: "And from the shearing of my sheep he was warmed."

EXPLANATION

מָה לְהִלָּן כֶּבֶשִׂים, אֵף כֹּאן כֶּבֶשִׂים.

Just as there the verse refers specifically to sheep, so too here the Torah refers specifically to sheep, and not to goats or other animals.

OBJECTION

וְנִילֵף "גִּיזָה" מִבְּכֹר,

The Gemara asks: But let us learn a gezerah shavah of shearing written here from the word shearing written in the case of a firstborn animal!

BRAISA

דְּתַנְיָא: "לֹא תַעֲבֹד בְּבֹכֶר שׁוֹרְךָ וְלֹא תִגְזֹר בְּכֹר צֹאנְךָ" – אֵין לִי אֶלָּא שׁוֹר בְּעֹבֹדָה וְצֹאן בְּגִיזָה.

As it was taught in a braisa: The pasuk says, "You shall do no work with the firstborn of your ox, and you shall not shear the firstborn of your flock." From this I would have only that an ox is forbidden in work and a flock animal (sheep or goat) is forbidden in shearing.

BRAISA

מִנֵּי לִיתֵּן הָאָמֹר שֶׁל זֶה בְּזָה, וְאֵת הָאָמֹר שֶׁל זֶה בְּזָה?

From where do we know to apply that which is said of this animal to that one, and that which is said of this animal to that one (meaning, that an ox may not be shorn, and a sheep may not be worked)?

BRAISA

תלמוד לומר "לא תעבוד ולא תגזז".

The Torah teaches us by connecting them with the word "and": "You shall do no work and you shall not shear." This teaches that both prohibitions apply to both types of animals. Now, since we see that shearing applies to oxen under the laws of bechor, let us say that reishis hagez also applies to oxen!

ANSWER

אמר קרא: "תתן לו", ולא לשקו.

The Gemara answers: The verse says regarding reishis hagez, "You shall give to him," which implies that you must give him something fit for his personal use (clothing), and not for his sack. The coarse hair of oxen is only fit for making sacks, not garments.

OBJECTION

אֵלָא מַעֲתָהּ, נֹצֶה שֶׁל עֲזִים לִיְחִיב?

The Gemara asks: If that is so, then goats' hair should be obligated in reishis hagez, since it can be woven into beautiful garments!

ANSWER

בְּעִינֵי גִיזָה, וְלִיכָּא!

The Gemara answers: We require an act of shearing, and there is none by goats, as goats' hair is normally plucked or pulled out, not shorn.

OBJECTION

מֵאֵן שְׁמַעְתָּ לִיהָ הָאִי סְבָרָא? רַבִּי יוֹסִי – הָא מוֹדִי רַבִּי יוֹסִי בְּמִידֵי דְאִוְרְחִיָּה!

The Gemara objects: Whom did you hear who holds this reasoning that plucking is not called shearing? It is Rabbi Yosei. But Rabbi Yosei admits in a case where it is the normal way of removing the hair! Since plucking is the normal way for goats, it should be obligated!

ANSWER

אֵלָא, כְּדָאֵמַר רַבִּי יְהוֹשֻׁעַ בֶּן לֹוִי: "לְעֻמּוֹד לְשֶׁרֶת" – דְּבָר הָרְאוּי לְשִׁירוֹת, הֵכָא נָמִי – דְּבָר הָרְאוּי לְשִׁירוֹת.

Rather, the source is as Rabbi Yehoshua ben Levi said: The Torah writes in the next pasuk, "To stand to minister" in the Beis HaMikdash, which teaches that the gift must be something fit for the Temple service (namely, the priestly garments). Here too, reishis hagez must be something fit for the Temple service, which is sheep's wool, and not goats' hair.

QUESTION

אֵלָא "גִּיזָה" "גִּיזָה" לְמַאי אָתָּא?

The Gemara asks: But if so, what does the gezerah shavah of shearing... shearing come to teach us?

ANSWER

לְכַדְתְּנָא דְּבִי רַבִּי יְשָׁמְעָאֵל, דְּתִנָּא דְּבִי רַבִּי יְשָׁמְעָאֵל: כְּבָשִׂים שְׂצֻמְרוֹן קָשָׁה פְּטוּרִים מֵרֵאשִׁית הַגִּזּוֹ, שְׁנָאֵמַר "וּמִגִּזּוֹ כְּבָשִׂי יִתְחַמֵּם".

The Gemara answers: It is needed for that which was taught in the school of Rabbi Yishmael. As the school of Rabbi Yishmael taught: Sheep whose wool is hard are exempt from reishis hagez, as it is said: "And from the shearing of my sheep he was warmed," which excludes hard wool that does not provide warmth.

STATEMENT

תני חדא: גוזז את העצים ושוטף את הרחלים – פטור,

It was taught in one braisa: One who shears goats or washes sheep (and wool falls off in the washing) is exempt from reishis hagez.

STATEMENT

ותניא אידך: הגוזז את העצים – פטור, ושוטף את הרחלים – חייב.

And it was taught in another braisa: One who shears goats is exempt, but one who washes sheep is obligated to give reishis hagez from the wool that came off.

RESOLUTION

לא קשיא: הא רבנן, והא רבי יוסי.

The Gemara resolves this: This is not difficult. This second braisa (which obligates washing) is according to the Rabbis, and that first braisa (which exempts) is according to Rabbi Yosei.

דתניא: "לקט קצירה" – ולא לקט קיטוף.

As it was taught in a braisa: The pasuk says regarding the gifts of the poor, "The gleanings of your harvest," which implies that only gleanings that fall during harvesting are holy, and not gleanings of plucking by hand.

רבי יוסי אומר: אין לקט אלא הבא מחמת קציר.

Rabbi Yosei says: There is no leket except that which comes by way of harvesting with a tool.

QUESTION

רבי יוסי היינו תנא קמא?

The Gemara asks: But is Rabbi Yosei not saying the exact same thing as the Tanna Kamma?

ANSWER

כולה רבי יוסי היא, והכי קתני: שרבי יוסי אומר, אין לקט אלא הבא מחמת קציר.

The Gemara answers: The entire braisa is Rabbi Yosei, and this is how it is teaching: For Rabbi Yosei says, there is no leket except that which comes by way of harvesting.

OBJECTION

אמר ליה רב אחא בריה דרבא לרב אשי: מודה רבי יוסי במידי דאורייה,

Rav Acha the son of Rava said to Rav Ashi: But Rabbi Yosei admits in a case where it is the normal way of harvesting!

דְּתַנְיָא: רַבִּי יוֹסֵי אוֹמֵר: "קָצִיר" – אֵין לִי אֶלָּא קָצִיר, עוֹקֵר מִנֵּי? תִּלְמוּד לוֹמֵר "לְקַצֹּר", תוֹלֵשׁ מִנֵּי? תִּלְמוּד לוֹמֵר "בְּקוֹצְרָה".

As it was taught in a braisa: Rabbi Yosei says: The word "harvest" is written; I have only a case of cutting with a sickle. From where do we know to include one who uproots by hand? The Torah teaches us, "to harvest." From where do we know to include one who plucks? The Torah teaches us, "when you harvest." Thus, Rabbi Yosei agrees that if plucking is the normal way, it is obligated!

אָמַר לִיה רַבִּינָא לְרַב אֲשִׁי: אַף אֲנִי נָמִי תַנִּינָא:

Ravina said to Rav Ashi: We have also learned this in a Mishnah:

מִלְּבָנוֹת בָּצָלִים שְׂבִין הֵיכָן, רַבִּי יוֹסֵי אוֹמֵר: פָּאָה מִכָּל אֶחָד וְאֶחָד, וְחֻכָּמִים אוֹמְרִים: מֵאַחַת עַל הַכָּל.

Regarding garden beds of onions that are between the vegetables, Rabbi Yosei says: One must give peah from each and every one of the beds, and the Sages say: From one bed for all of them. Since onions are uprooted and yet Rabbi Yosei obligates peah, we see he agrees where it is the normal way!

QUESTION

וּכְמָה הוּא מְרוּבָּה?

The Gemara returns to the Mishnah's discussion of the minimum number of sheep required: And how much is "many" sheep to be obligated in reishis hagez?

QUESTION

בְּשָׁלְמָא לְבֵית שַׁמַּאי – תִּרְתִּי נָמִי אֵיקְרוּ "צֹאן",

Granted according to Beis Shammai who say two sheep are enough, because two are also called "flock" (tzon),

QUESTION

אֶלָּא לְבֵית הֵלֵל – מַאי טַעְמָא?

but according to Beis Hillel who require five sheep, what is the reason?

ANSWER

אָמַר רַב כְּהָנָא: אָמַר קָרָא "עֲשׂוּיֹת", שְׁעוֹשׂוֹת שְׁתֵּי מִצְוֹת: רֵאשִׁית הֶגֶז וּמִתְּנוֹת.

Rav Kahana said: The verse says "prepared" (asuyos), meaning that they perform two mitzvos: reishis hagez and the gifts of the foreleg, cheeks, and abomasum.

OBJECTION

אֵימָא בְּכוֹרָה וּמִתְּנוֹת?

The Gemara asks: But say instead that the two mitzvos are bechorah (firstborn) and the gifts?

ANSWER

בכורה, חֶדָּא מִי לָא מִיחֵיבָא?

The Gemara answers: Is a single animal not obligated in bechorah? Why would you need five?

OBJECTION

וּלְטַעְמִיהּ, מִתְּנִינָהּ, חֶדָּא מִי לָא מִיחֵיבָא?

The Gemara objects: And according to your reasoning, is a single animal not obligated in the priestly gifts? Why then does the verse imply a group of sheep is needed?

ANSWER

אָלָא אָמַר רַב אָשִׁי: "עֲשׂוּיֹת" – שְׁמַעְשׂוֹת אֶת בְּעָלֶיהֶן, וְאֹמְרוֹת לוֹ: "קוּם עֲשֵׂה מִצְוָה".

Rather, Rav Ashi said: "Asuyos" means that they force their owner, and say to him: "Arise and perform a mitzvah," because when there are five sheep, the amount of wool is significant enough that the obligation of reishis hazez is triggered immediately.

STATEMENT

תִּנְיָא דְּבִי רַבִּי יִשְׁמַעְאֵל בְּרַבִּי יוֹסִי אוֹמֵר מְשׁוּם אָבִיו: אַרְבַּע, שְׁנֵאַמַּר: "וְאַרְבַּע צֹאן תַּחַת הַשֶּׁה".

It was taught in a braisa: The school of Rabbi Yishmael the son of Rabbi Yosei says in the name of his father: Four sheep are required, as it is said: "And four sheep (tzon) instead of the lamb." Here the Torah explicitly calls a group of four "tzon."

STATEMENT

תִּנְיָא, אָמַר רַבִּי: אִלְמָלָא דְּבִרְיָהּ דְּבִרִּי תוֹרָה, וְדְבִרִּי בְּרִיבִי קַבָּלָה – אֲנִן דְּבִרִּי בְּרִיבִי שׁוֹמְעִין.

It was taught in a braisa: Rabbi said: Were it not that their words (of Beis Hillel, who require five) are words of Torah, and the words of the great master (Rabbi Yosei, who requires four) are Kabbalah (tradition), we would listen to the words of the great master, as his proof from the verse is very strong.

STATEMENT

וְכָל שְׂכֵן שֶׁדְּבִרְיָהֶם דְּבִרִּי קַבָּלָה, וְדְבִרִּי בְּרִיבִי דְּבִרִּי תוֹרָה.

And all the more so since their words (Beis Hillel) are actually Kabbalah (received tradition), and the words of the great master are merely an interpretation of words of Torah; therefore we must follow Beis Hillel.

QUESTION

וְהָאָמַר מַר: אִין הַכֶּרְעָה שְׁלִישִׁית מְכַרְעַת!

The Gemara asks: But did the Master not say: A third, compromising opinion does not decide between two conflicting views unless it has a source? How can Rabbi Yosei offer a third view of four sheep between Beis Shammai's two and Beis Hillel's five?

עמוד ב' DAF 137B

EXPLANATION

אָמַר רַבִּי יוֹחָנָן: מִפִּי שְׁמוּעָה אָמְרָה, מִפִּי חֲגִי זְכָרְיָה וּמִלְּאָכִי.

Rabbi Yochanan said: From the mouth of a tradition she said it, meaning Rabbi Yehuda HaNasi did not accept Rabbi Yosei's view as a mere compromise, but rather because Rabbi Yosei said it from the mouth of Haggai, Zechariah, and Malachi.

מִשְׁנָה MISHNAH

MISHNAH

רַבִּי דוֹסָא בֶּן הַרְפִּינָס אָמַר וְכוּ'.
Rabbi Dosa ben Harkinas says etc.,

We learned in the Mishnah: Rabbi Dosa ben Harkinas says etc., that the obligation of the first of the shearings applies to five sheep whose shearings weigh one hundred and fifty dinars each, while the Rabbis say: Five sheep, each of whose shearing is any amount.

גְּמָרָא GEMARA

QUESTION

וּכְמָה "כָּל שֶׁהוּא"?

The Gemara asks: And how much is meant by the Rabbis' phrase "any amount"?

ANSWER

אָמַר רַב: מָנָה וּפְרָס, וּבְלֶכֶד שִׁיּוּהוּ מְחוּמָּשׁוֹת,
Rav said: It means a total weight of a maneh and a half-maneh, which is one hundred and fifty dinars, provided that they are divided into fifths, meaning each of the five sheep yields an equal share of thirty dinars' weight.

ANSWER

וּשְׁמוּאֵל אָמַר: שְׁשִׁים, וְנוֹתֵן סֵלַע אַחַת לְכֹהֵן.
And Shmuel said: The total weight must be sixty sela, and the owner gives one sela to the Kohen, which is one-sixtieth of the total.

ANSWER

רַבָּה בַּר בַּר חַנָּה אָמַר רַבִּי יוֹחָנָן: שֵׁשׁ – לְכֹהֵן חֲמִשָּׁה, וְאַחַת לוֹ.
Rabba bar bar Chana said that Rabbi Yochanan said: The total weight must be six sela, and of this he gives to the Kohen five sela, and one sela remains for himself.

ANSWER

עוּלָא אָמַר רַבִּי אֱלֶעָזָר: "כָּל שֶׁהוּא" שְׁנֵינּוּ.
Ulla said that Rabbi Elazar said: We learned in the Mishnah literally "any amount", meaning that the obligation applies even if the total weight of the shearing is only one sela.

OBJECTION

תֵּנוּ: וְכְמָה נוֹתֵן לוֹ? מִשְׁקַל חֲמִשָּׁה סֵלָעִים בִּיהוּדָה, שֶׁהוּא עֶשְׂרֵה סֵלָעִים בְּגָלִיל.
תנו: וכמה נותן לו? משקל חמש סלעים ביהודה, שהוא עשר סלעים בגליל.

The Gemara raises a difficulty: We learned in a Mishnah elsewhere: And how much does the owner give to him, to the Kohen? He must give him the weight of five sela in Yehudah, which are equivalent to ten sela in the Galil.

OBJECTION

בְּשִׁלְמָא לְרַב יוֹחָנָן – נִיחָא, אֲלָא לְשִׁמוּאֵל וְרַבִּי אֶלְעָזָר – קְשִׁיָּא!

Granted, according to Rav and Rabbi Yochanan, the Mishnah works out well, since Rav does not discuss the amount given to the Kohen, and Rabbi Yochanan explicitly says he gives five sela. But according to Shmuel and Rabbi Elazar, it is difficult! Shmuel says he gives only one sela, and Rabbi Elazar says the whole obligation applies even if the total shearing is only one sela.

OBJECTION

וְלִיטַעְמִיהּ, וְלָרַב מִי נִיחָא? וְהָא רַב וְשִׁמוּאֵל דְּאָמְרֵי תְרוּמָתָהּ: רִאשִׁית הֶגְזָא בְּשִׁשִּׁים!

The Gemara counters: And according to your reasoning, does it work out well for Rav? But surely Rav and Shmuel both say: The first of the shearing given to the Kohen is one-sixtieth of the total! Since Rav holds the minimum total weight is one hundred and fifty dinars, one-sixtieth of that is less than five sela, which contradicts the Mishnah.

RESOLUTION

הָא אֵיתִמַּר עַלָּה דְּהֵיא, רַב וְשִׁמוּאֵל דְּאָמְרֵי תְרוּמָתָהּ: בְּשִׁשִּׁים לֹא גִיזִין הֶרְבֵּה עֲסָקִינוּ, וּמִבְּקָשׁ לִיתֵנָּה לְכַחֲנָא, וְאָמְרִינוּ לֵיהּ: כָּל חַד וְחַד לָא תִבְצֹר לֵיהּ מִחֲמִשֶּׁת סָלְעִים.

The Gemara answers: But it was stated regarding that Mishnah that Rav and Shmuel both say: We are dealing with an Yisrael who has many shearings, and he wishes to distribute them to several Kohanim, and we say to him: For each and every Kohen, do not give him less than five sela. But if he only has a small amount of shearing, he gives the Kohen one-sixtieth, even if it is less than five sela.

STATEMENT

גּוֹפָא: רַב וְשִׁמוּאֵל דְּאָמְרֵי תְרוּמָתָהּ: רִאשִׁית הֶגְזָא בְּשִׁשִּׁים, תְּרוּמָה בְּשִׁשִּׁים, פֶּאֶה בְּשִׁשִּׁים.

The Gemara now analyzes the text itself that was just quoted: Rav and Shmuel both say: The first of the shearing must be one-sixtieth of the total, terumah must be one-sixtieth, and pe'ah must be one-sixtieth.

QUESTION

תְּרוּמָה בְּשִׁשִּׁים? וְהָא אֲנִי תִנָּן: תְּרוּמָה עֵין יָפָה – אֶחָד מֵאַרְבָּעִים!

The Gemara asks: Is terumah's standard measure one-sixtieth? But didn't we learn in a Mishnah: For terumah, one who has a generous eye gives one-fortieth, an average eye gives one-fiftieth, and a stingy eye gives one-sixtieth? Thus, one-sixtieth is only for a stingy person, not the standard!

ANSWER

דְּאוֹרֵייתָא – בְּשִׁשִּׁים, דְּרַבָּנָן – בְּאַרְבָּעִים.

The Gemara answers: By Torah law, the requirement is one-sixtieth, but by Rabbinic law, they instituted that the standard should be one-fortieth.

QUESTION

דְּאוֹרֵייתָא בְּשִׁשִּׁים? וְהָאֵמַר שִׁמוּאֵל: חֲטָה אַחַת פּוֹטֶרֶת אֶת הַכֹּהֵן!

The Gemara asks: Is the measure by Torah law one-sixtieth? But didn't Shmuel say: By Torah law, even one grain of wheat exempts the entire pile of grain from the obligation of terumah!

ANSWER

דאורייתא – כדשמואל, דרפנן בדאורייתא – אחת מארבעים, דרפנן בדרפנן – בששים.

The Gemara clarifies: Indeed, by Torah law, the rule is like Shmuel, that one grain is enough. Rather, the distinction is: By Rabbinic law, for produce that is obligated in terumah by Torah law, the Sages required one-fortie th; whereas by Rabbinic law, for produce that is only obligated in terumah by Rabbinic law, they only required one-sixtie th.

QUESTION

פאה בששים, והתנן: אלו דברים שאין להן שיעור: הפאה, והבכורים, והראיון.

The Gemara raises another difficulty: Is pe'ah's measure one-sixtieth? But didn't we learn in a Mishnah: These are things that have no fixed Torah measure: Pe'ah, and the first-fruits, and the appearance-offering brought on the festivals.

ANSWER

דאורייתא – אין לה שיעור, דרפנן – בששים.

The Gemara answers: By Torah law, it has no measure; but by Rabbinic law, they established its minimum at one-sixtie th.

QUESTION

מאי קא משמע לן? תנינא: אין פוחתין לפאה מששים, אף על פי שאמרו הפאה אין לה שיעור!

The Gemara asks: What is this coming to teach us? We already learned this in a Mishnah: We do not give less for pe'ah than one-sixtie th, even though they said that pe'ah has no measure!

ANSWER

התם בארץ, הכא בחוצה לארץ.

The Gemara answers: There, the Mishnah is speaking of pe'ah in Eretz Yisrael; here, Rav and Shmuel are teaching us that the Rabbinic minimum of one-sixtieth applies even outside of Eretz Yisrael.

STATEMENT

כי סליק איסי בר היני, אשכחיה (לרבי) [רבי] יוחנן דקא מתני ליה לבריה "רחלים",

The Gemara relates: When Isi bar Hini went up from Bavel to Eretz Yisrael, he found Rabbi Yochanan teaching his son the Mishnah using the word "rechelim" for sheep.

STATEMENT

אמר ליה: אתנייה "רחלות",

Isi said to him: Teach him using the word "rechelot".

STATEMENT

אמר ליה: כדכתיב "רחלים מאתים",

Rabbi Yochanan said to him: I teach it as it is written in the Torah: "Two hundred rechelim".

STATEMENT

אמר ליה: לשון תורה לעצמה, לשון חכמים לעצמן.

Isi said to him: The language of the Torah is on its own, and the language of the Sages is on its own, and the Sages in the Mishnah use the term "rechelot".

STATEMENT

אמר ליה: מאן ריש סדרא בכבד? אמר ליה: אבא אריכא.

Rabbi Yochanan then said to him: Who is the head of the academy in Bavel? Isi said to him: Abba the tall, referring to Rav.

STATEMENT

אמר ליה: אבא אריכא קרית ליה?!

Rabbi Yochanan said to him: You call him "Abba the tall" so casually?!

STATEMENT

דכירנא כד הוה יתיבנא אחר שבוע עשרה שורן אחוריה דרב קמיה דרבי,

I remember when I was sitting seventeen rows behind Rav, who himself sat before Rabbi Yehuda HaNasi,

STATEMENT

ונפקי זיקוקין דנור מפומיה דרב לפומיה דרבי, ומפומיה דרבי לפומיה דרב, and sparks of fire were going out from the mouth of Rav to the mouth of Rabbi, and from the mouth of Rabbi to the mouth of Rav, because of the heat and depth of their Torah discussion,

STATEMENT

ולית אנא ידע מה הו אמרין, ואף "אבא אריכא" קרית ליה?!

and I did not even know what they were saying due to its depth, and you call him "Abba the tall"?!

QUESTION

אמר ליה איהו: ראשית הגז בכמה?

Isi said to him: At how much shearing does the obligation of the first of the shearing apply?

ANSWER

אמר ליה רבי יוחנן: בששים.

Rabbi Yochanan said to him: At sixty sela.

QUESTION

והאנו "בכל שהו" תנן!

Isi asked: But didn't we learn in our Mishnah that it applies "to any amount"?

ANSWER

אמר ליה: אם כן, מה בין לי ולך?

Rabbi Yochanan said to him: If so, that you only know what is written literally in the Mishnah, what is the difference between me and you? A scholar must know the deeper, received halachic definitions.

STATEMENT

כִּי אֵתָא רַב דִּימִי, אָמַר: רְאֵשִׁית הַגֶּז – רַב אָמַר בְּשֵׁשִׁים, וְרַבִּי יוֹחָנָן מְשׁוּם רַבִּי יַנָּאי אָמַר בְּשֵׁשׁ.

When Rav Dimi came from Eretz Yisrael to Bavel, he said: Regarding the first of the shearing, Rav said it applies at sixty sela, and Rabbi Yochanan said in the name of Rabbi Yannai that it applies at six sela.

OBJECTION

אָמַר לִיָּה אַבְיִי לְרַב דִּימִי: אֲנַחְתָּ לֹא חֲדָא וְאַקְשֵׁית לֹא חֲדָא.

Abaye said to Rav Dimi: You have settled one difficulty for us, but you have raised another difficulty for us.

EXPLANATION

בְּשֵׁלְמָא דְרַבִּי יוֹחָנָן אֲדַרְבִּי יוֹחָנָן לָא קִשְׁיָא: הָא דִּידְיָה, הָא דְרַבִּיָּה.

Granted, the contradiction between one statement of Rabbi Yochanan and the other statement of Rabbi Yochanan is not difficult: This statement that it requires sixty sela is his own view, while this statement that it requires six sela is the view of his teacher, Rabbi Yannai.

OBJECTION

אָלָא דְרַב אֲדַרְבִּי קִשְׁיָא, דִּהָא אָמַר רַב מְנָה וּפְרָס!

But the contradiction between one statement of Rav and the other statement of Rav is difficult, for surely Rav said earlier that the minimum is a maneh and a half-maneh, which is thirty-seven and a half sela, and here you say he requires sixty sela!

RESOLUTION

דְרַב אֲדַרְבִּי נָמִי לָא קִשְׁיָא, מַאי מְנָה דִּקְאָמַר? בֵּין אַרְבַּעַים סָלְעִים, דִּהָהָא לִיָּה

The Gemara answers: The contradiction of Rav and Rav is also not difficult. What is the "maneh" that he was speaking of? It was a large maneh of forty sela, which makes a maneh and a half-maneh exactly sixty sela.

SUMMARY

The Gemara establishes that reishis hagez applies exclusively to sheep's wool because the Torah requires a gift fit for the bigdei kehunah (priestly garments) and one that provides warmth, which excludes goats' hair and coarse oxen hair. We resolve a contradiction between braisos regarding one who washes sheep and collects the loose wool, explaining the machlokes based on Rabbi Yosei's view of whether hand-plucking is halachically equivalent to harvesting. The daf concludes by analyzing the source for Beis Hillel's shitta that a person must own at least five sheep to be obligated in the mitzvah, pointing to the word "asuyos" to show they must be performing multiple mitzvos.

In our sugya, the Gemara is bothered by how we define the mitzvah of Reishis Hagez, the first of the shearings we give to the Kohen. The Torah says "titten lo", you must give it to him, and Rabbi Yehoshua ben Levi teaches that this means it must be "davar hara'uy l'sheirus," something fit for the priestly garments of the Beis HaMikdash. It cannot be coarse hair only fit for sacks, and it cannot be hard wool that does not bring warmth. The gift we give to the Kohen, representing our service to Hashem, cannot be second-rate or just "good enough." It has to be something beautiful, warm, and fit for the King's palace.

Lichoira, we must ask ourselves: how do we perform our own daily avodah? When we daven, when we learn, or when we give tzedakah, are we giving Hashem our "hard wool", the leftovers of our energy, our rushed moments, and our distracted thoughts? Or are we giving Him "davar hara'uy l'sheirus," our finest focus, our warmest enthusiasm, and our best hours of the day?

It is so easy to fall into the trap of just checking the box, offering a service that is cold and stiff. But the neshama of a Yid wants to warm others and bring light, just like the soft wool that brings warmth. When you do a mitzvah, do it with hiddur, with a shining face, and with your full heart. Give Hashem the very best of what you have.

Today, choose one mitzvah or one tefillah, like Mincha or a few minutes of learning, and do it with your absolute best focus and energy, treating it like a service fit for the Beis HaMikdash.

When you feel weighed down by your mistakes, do not keep silent or try to hide them. Open your heart to Hashem in honest confession, and then immediately shift your focus to absolute trust in His forgiveness and constant protection, knowing that He never slumbers and is always guarding your steps.

Today, the moment you feel a heavy heart or a sense of spiritual distance, stop what you are doing, speak to Hashem in your own words to acknowledge your mistake, and then say out loud: 'My help is from Hashem, who forgives and guards my soul.'

אור החיים הקדוש

AI-assisted explanatory translation

Or HaChaim on Deuteronomy 32:7:1

Remember the days of old. Moshe presents four distinct directives here, corresponding to the four descriptions of Hashem's relationship with us that he mentioned in the previous verse (Deuteronomy 32:6). Corresponding to his statement there, "Is He not your Father?" which refers to Hashem as the Creator, Moshe says here, "Remember the days of old." This refers to the six days of Creation, where one will find that He is indeed the Maker and Creator of all.

And corresponding to his statement there, "Who acquired you?" which refers to the Exodus from Egypt and the other kindnesses through which He acquired us as His own, Moshe says here, "Consider the years of many generations." This means one should contemplate what Hashem did during the years of two specific generations: the generation that left Egypt, and the fourth generation that entered the Land of Israel. Through studying these, you will recognize His deeds for the Jewish people, through which He acquired you.

And corresponding to his statement there, "He made you," which refers to the lofty spiritual elevation we explained, that He placed His Divine Presence among us and granted us prophecy, Moshe says here, "Ask your father, and he will declare it to you." "Your father" in this context refers to the prophets, as Chazal have explained in the Sifrei.

וּכְנִיחַ אָמְרוּ "עָשָׂה" שֶׁהוּא תְּקוּן עָלֵינוּ

לְבִרְכָּה (ספרי).

And corresponding to "and established you," which we explained as referring to the preparations for the World to Come, Moshe says here, "your elders, and they will tell you." This refers to the Sages of Israel, who understand the preparation for and the attainment of the World to Come; they will tell you of these eternal matters.

בְּפִשְׁטוּת · In plain words

The Ohr HaChaim explains that the four directives in this verse, remembering the days of old, contemplating the generations, asking one's father, and consulting the elders, directly correspond to the four descriptions of Hashem's relationship with Israel in the preceding verse. "Remembering the days of old" points to Hashem as Creator ("your Father"); "contemplating the generations" points to the Exodus and conquest of the Land ("Who acquired you"); "asking your father" refers to consulting the prophets about our spiritual elevation ("He made you"); and "consulting the elders" refers to learning from the Sages about the ultimate purpose of the World to Come ("and established you").

לְמַעַשֶׂה · Lemaaseh

We can deepen our relationship with Hashem by actively engaging in the four areas of study outlined by the Ohr HaChaim: studying the wonders of Creation, reflecting on the historical miracles of our redemption, learning the words of the prophets, and absorbing the teachings of our Sages regarding the ultimate purpose of life in the World to Come.

Or HaChaim on Deuteronomy 32:8:1

When the Most High gave to the nations their inheritance: This means that when Hashem, blessed be He, distributed the nations as inheritances to the supernal guardian angels, it demonstrated that they are of lesser importance to Him. He did not wish for them to be associated directly with His own Name, and so He placed them under the authority of these supernal ministers.

בְּהִנָּחֵל עֲלֵיוֹן גּוֹיִם. פְּרוּשׁ, כְּשֶׁהִנָּחֵל ה' בְּרוּךְ הוּא אֶת הַגּוֹיִם לְשָׂרֵי מַעְלָה, זֶה יְגִיד אֲשֶׁר הֵם פְּחוּתִים אֶצְלוֹ, אֲשֶׁר לֹא רָצָה שִׁיתְּכֻנּוּ לְשֵׁמוֹ, וְנִתְּנָם לְשָׂרֵי מַעְלָה:

Or HaChaim on Deuteronomy 32:8:2

When He separated the children of men: This means that Hashem did not hand over all the nations to a single guardian angel. Instead, He separated them and assigned a specific portion to each individual minister. The manner of this division, when He set the borders of the peoples, was according to the number of the children of Israel. To understand this, you must know that all of Hashem's creations are structured with one corresponding to another, representing good and evil. All the souls of created beings were planted by Hashem from two primary trees: one good tree and one evil tree.

בְּהַפְרִידוֹ בְּנֵי אָדָם. פְּרוּשׁ, שֶׁלֹּא מָסַר ה' כָּל הָאוֹמוֹת בְּיַד שָׂר אֶחָד, אֲלֵא הַפְרִידָם וְנָתַן חֶלֶק לְכָל שָׂר וְשָׂר. וְאוֹפֵן הָחַלּוּקָה שֶׁעָשָׂה בָּהֶם כְּשִׁיצַב גְּבוּלָם הִיָּתָה לְמִסְפָּר בְּנֵי יִשְׂרָאֵל. פְּרוּשׁ, יֵשׁ לָהּ לְדַעַת כִּי כָל מַעֲשֵׂה ה' עָשָׂה זֶה לְעוֹמֶת זֶה וְטוֹב וְרָע, וְכָל נִפְשׁוֹת שֶׁבְּנִבְרָאִים נִטְעָם ה' מִשְׁנֵי אֵילָנוֹת: אֵילָן אֶחָד טוֹב וְאֶחָד רָע.

The good tree is Adam HaRishon, the first man, while the evil tree is Samael, the evil spiritual counterpart, called adam beliyaal, the corrupt man. When Adam HaRishon sinned and evil became mixed with good, the offspring of Adam HaRishon began to produce corrupt souls as well. This continued until a single pure soul emerged, which included within it all the holy souls, thereby separating out the good tree anew. This soul was our father Yaakov, peace be upon him.

This is why Chazal teach in Bava Metzia 84a and the Zohar, Volume 3, page 244a, that the beauty of our father Yaakov was a reflection of the beauty of Adam HaRishon. Understand these deep matters. This holy tree contains seventy branches, which correspond to the seventy souls of Yaakov's family who descended to Egypt. Therefore, when Hashem separated the nations, He set their borders according to the number of the children of Israel, establishing exactly seventy nations to correspond to the seventy branches of holiness.

Or HaChaim on Deuteronomy 32:8:3

The purpose of this arrangement is so that each specific aspect of every holy branch should rule over its corresponding counterpart in the realm of evil. This is the inner meaning of the verse in Mishlei 5:5, Her feet go down to death, which teaches that the feet of holiness tread upon the heads of the impure forces. Consequently, the branches of Yaakov rule and reign over the nations.

אֵילָן הַטּוֹב הוּא אָדָם הָרִשּׁוֹן, אֵילָן הָרָע הוּא ס"מ אָדָם בְּלִיעַל. וְכִשְׁחָטָא אָדָם הָרִשּׁוֹן וְנִתְעַרְבַּ רַע בְּטוֹב, חֲזָרוּ לְהִיטּוֹת יוֹצְאִים מֵהוֹלָדֶת אָדָם הָרִשּׁוֹן גַּם נַפְשׁוֹת רָעוֹת, עַד שֶׁיֵּצְאָה נַפֶּשׁ אַחַת טְהוֹרָה שְׁבָה כָּלִילוֹת כָּל הַנַּשְׁמוֹת הַקְּדוֹשׁוֹת, וְנִתְבָּרַר הָאֵילָן הַטּוֹב מִחֻדָּשׁ, וְזֶה הוּא יַעֲקֹב אָבִינוּ עָלֵינוּ הַשְּׁלוֹם.

וְלָזֶה אָמְרוּ (בבא מציעא פד.; זוהר חלק ג רמד.) שׁוֹפְרִיָה דִּיעֲקֹב אָבִינוּ מַעֲיֵן שׁוֹפְרִיָה דְאָדָם קִדְמָאָה, וְהָבִין הַדְּבָרִים. וְאֵילָן זֶה יֵשׁ בּוֹ שִׁבְעִים עֲנָפִים, וְהֵם שִׁבְעִים נַפְשׁוֹת שֶׁיֵּרְדּוּ לְמִצְרַיִם. וְאֲשֶׁר עַל כֵּן כָּאֲשֶׁר הִפְרִיד ה' הָאוֹמוֹת, הָצִיב גְּבוּלָם לְמִסְפַּר בְּנֵי יִשְׂרָאֵל, עֲשֵׂה מֵהֶם שִׁבְעִים כְּנָגֵד שִׁבְעִים עֲנָפֵי הַקְּדוּשָׁה.

וְהַכּוֹנֵנָה בְּזֶה, כִּדִּי שֶׁתִּהְיֶה כָּל בְּחִינָה וּבְחִינָה שֶׁל כָּל עֲנַף מֵעֲנָפֵי הַקְּדוּשָׁה מוֹשְׁלָת עַל שְׁכִנְגֻדָּה בְּחֵלֶק הָרָע, וְזֶה סוּד (משלי ה:ה) "רַגְלֶיהָ יוֹרְדוֹת מוֹת", שֶׁרַגְלִים שֶׁל הַקְּדוּשָׁה דוֹרְכִים עַל רָאשֵׁי הַקְּלָפָה, וְנִמְצְאִים עֲנָפֵי יַעֲקֹב שׁוֹלְטִים וּמוֹלְכִים עַל הָאֻמוֹת.

The next verse then states, For Hashem's portion is His people, which explains the reason for this setup. Since the nation Hashem chose to rule over directly is Israel, He designed this system to elevate and give the children of Israel dominion over all the nations. Through this, when He rules over Israel, He effectively rules over the entire world.

The phrase, Hashem's portion is His people, refers specifically to Israel after they received the Torah, as they were then fully designated as the people of Hashem. The expression, Yaakov is the lot of His inheritance, uses the word chevel, meaning a rope, to signify the primary cord of the inheritance. This relates directly to what I have already pointed out regarding the rabbinic teaching in Bava Metzia 84a that the beauty of Yaakov reflects the beauty of Adam HaRishon.

Or HaChaim on Deuteronomy 32:8-4

He offers another explanation based on two levels of souls. Some come from a higher spiritual world, and these are described as "Hashem's portion," a portion from Hashem, so to speak. Others come from the place called nachalas Shaddai, "the inheritance of Shaddai," and these are described by "Yaakov, the cord of His inheritance." For clarity, the author is distinguishing spiritual sources; "so to speak" marks the limits of describing this relationship in human language.

The Torah is precise in using the word chevel, which means a rope, to hint at a profound concept revealed by the masters of Kabbalah. Every living soul in a person is connected by a spiritual cord to its source. This cord extends from the nostrils and remains bound to its supernal root above, and through this cord the soul draws its life force.

וְאָמַר "כִּי חֵלֶק ה' עִמּוֹ" פְּרוּשׁ טַעַם לָזֶה, לְהִיּוֹת שְׁהֶאֱמָה אֲשֶׁר בָּחַר לוֹ ה' שִׁיְהִיָּהּ הוּא הַמּוֹשֵׁל עָלֶיהָ הֵם יִשְׂרָאֵל, לָזֶה נִתְּכּוֹן ה' וְהַמְּלִיךְ וְנִשְׂא אֶת בְּנֵי יִשְׂרָאֵל עַל כָּל הָאֻמוֹת, וּבָזָה כְּאֲשֶׁר הוּא מוֹלִיךְ עַל יִשְׂרָאֵל הֵנָּה הוּא מוֹלִיךְ עַל כָּל הָעוֹלָם כָּלּוּ.

וְאָמְרוּ "חֵלֶק ה' עִמּוֹ" יָכוֹן אֶל יִשְׂרָאֵל אַחֵר שֶׁקִּבְּלוּ הַתּוֹרָה שְׂאֵז יִקְרָאוּ בְּשֵׁם עַם ה'. וְאָמְרוּ "עֵקֶב חֶבֶל" פְּרוּשׁ הַחֶבֶל שֶׁהוּא רֹאשׁ הַנֶּחֱלָה, וְהוּא מֵה שֶׁהֶעִירוּתֶיהָ אֵלָיו בְּרִמּוֹ אֲמָרָם זְכוּרָנָם לְבָרְכָהּ (בבא מציעא פד.) שׁוֹפְרִיהָ דִּיעֶקֶב וְכוּ':

וְדִקְדַּק לוֹמַר "חֶבֶל" לְרִמּוֹ עֲנִיָּן גָּדוֹל אֲשֶׁר גָּלוּ יוֹדְעֵי חוֹן, כִּי כָּל נִפְשׁ הַחַיּוּנִי שְׁבָאָדָם יֵשׁ לָהּ חוּט אֶחָד דְּבוּק עִם שְׂרָשָׁהּ, וְהוּא יוֹצֵא מֵהַנְּחִירִים וְדְבוּק בְּשֶׁרְשׁוֹ לְמַעַלָּה, וּמִשָּׁם יוֹנֶקֶת הַנֶּפֶשׁ לְחַיּוּת.

Regarding the soul of a wicked person, the verse in Bamidbar 15:31 says, That soul shall utterly be cut off, meaning that Hashem cuts off this connecting cord that binds the soul to the place from which it was carved. Once cut, it can no longer draw spiritual sustenance, and this state is spiritual death, may Merciful Heaven save us. Conversely, regarding the righteous, the verse in Deuteronomy 4:4 states, But you who cling to Hashem your God are alive today. This is the meaning of, Yaakov is the lot of His inheritance, representing this unbroken spiritual cord. Understand this well.

בפשוט · In plain words

The Ohr HaChaim explains the nations' division through heavenly ministers, in contrast with Hashem's direct rule over Yisrael. He describes seventy branches of holiness, rooted in Yaakov, corresponding to seventy nations and governing their opposing forces. He then offers another reading based on different spiritual sources of souls. The word chevel, a cord, expresses the soul's continuing dependence on its source for life; being cut off severs that connection, while cleaving to Hashem sustains it.

למעשה · Lemaaseh

The image of the cord asks us to value the connection that sustains spiritual life. In one choice today, take the mitzvah seriously as part of cleaving to Hashem. The reflection follows the Ohr HaChaim's contrast between maintaining that connection and becoming cut off from it.

Or HaChaim on Deuteronomy 32:10:1

He found him in a desert land, and in the waste, etc. It appears that the verse intends to follow the path of Chazal in Berachot 9b, who said that Israel did not leave Egypt until they had made it like a deep sea that has no fish in it, meaning they emptied it of all its spiritual sparks. Furthermore, they said in Likkutei Torah on Vayeira that if Israel had delayed any longer in Egypt, they would have been absorbed there forever, because they would have entered the fiftieth gate of impurity.

To describe this, the verse says, 'He found him in a land of desert', meaning a land that is desolate and has no spiritual substance left in it. For this reason, the text does not say 'He found him in the desert' (which would refer to the physical wilderness), but rather 'in a land of desert' (referring to Egypt which had become spiritually desolate). Understand this.

ימצאֵהוּ בְּאֶרֶץ מִדְבָּר וּבְתֵהוּ וְגו'. נראה כי יכוון הכתוב על דרך אֶמְרָם וְכֹרֶנָם לְבָרְכָה (ברכות ט:): לֹא יֵצְאוּ יִשְׂרָאֵל מִמִּצְרַיִם עַד שֶׁשָּׂאוֹהָ כְּמִצּוּלָה שְׂאִין בָּהּ דָּגִים וְכו', וְאָמְרוּ עוֹד (ליקוטי תורה וירא) שְׂאֵם הָיוּ יִשְׂרָאֵל מִתְעַכְבִּין בְּמִצְרַיִם הָיוּ נִטְמָעִים שָׁם לְעַד לְעוֹלָם כִּי הָיוּ נִכְנָסִים בְּחִמְשֵׁי שְׁעָרֵי טְמֵאָה,

לָזֶה אָמַר יִמְצָאֵהוּ בְּאֶרֶץ שְׁהִיא מִדְבָּר, פְּרוֹשׁ חֲרָבָה וְאִין בָּהּ מִמֶּשׁ, וְלָזֶה לֹא אָמַר יִמְצָאֵהוּ בַּמִּדְבָּר אֲלָא בְּאֶרֶץ מִדְבָּר, וְהִבּוֹ:

The verse further explains that not only was the land a desert, completely devoid of any spark of holiness, but it was also 'a waste, a howling wilderness.' This means it was filled with filth and spiritual impurity. You will find that they said in the Zohar, Volume I, page 16a, that 'waste' (tohu) represents a specific force of impurity (kelipah), and similarly 'a howling wilderness' represents the forces of evil. Thus, the place was entirely stripped of good and completely filled with evil.

Because of this danger, Hashem 'compassed him about' (yesovevenhu), a term denoting protection. The Torah uses the future tense here to teach that this protection which He provided for them was not a temporary event; rather, it remains constant and will endure forever. The depth of this protection is that He extracted them from that place of evil so they would not be absorbed there.

Furthermore, in that very place, when Hashem brought the plagues upon Egypt, He protected them, just as the verses state: 'but of the livestock of the children of Israel...' (Exodus 9:6), 'in the land of Goshen...' (Exodus 9:26), 'but for all the children of Israel there was light...' (Exodus 10:23), and 'He will not allow the destroyer...' (Exodus 12:23). This is the meaning of 'He compassed him about.'

Yevonenehu, "He gave him understanding," refers to Hashem's gift of Torah, the source of understanding. Through it He guards Yisrael "like the pupil of His eye," as in "Understanding will guard you" (Mishlei 2:11). The eye image also appears in Zechariah 2:12: "Whoever touches you touches the pupil of His eye."

וְאָמְרוּ יְבוֹנְנֶהוּ – פְּרוֹשׁ, עַל יַד שְׁנֵיתָן לָהֶם

כְּמֹאֲמַר הַנְּבִיא (זְכַרְיָה ב:יב) "כִּי הַנוֹגֵעַ
בְּכֶם כְּנוֹגֵעַ בְּכַבֵּת עֵינֹו".

The Ohr HaChaim explains the image through the eye's delicacy. It cannot bear a finger touching it because the finger is coarse compared with the eye, which is refined. He uses this contrast to express how something spiritual cannot bear contact with what is coarse and physical.

He connects this to Rabbi Shimon bar Yochai's statement in the Zohar (volume 2, 211b): "Woe to the soul that bears a foreign fire." The fire in which the soul is punished is foreign to the soul's own fire. By contrast, the righteous soul immerses in the fire called Nehar Dinur while that fire has not become distant or material, and therefore does not suffer from it. For clarity, he is distinguishing a fire alien to the soul's refined nature from a spiritual fire compatible with it. That distinction helps explain why contact with coarseness can be painful to what is spiritually refined.

Or HaChaim on Deuteronomy 32:10:4

This is what the verse means here by 'as the apple of His eye.' Because Israel became spiritual beings, everything outside of them is considered coarse and physical. Therefore, even the touch of something spiritually coarse harms and damages them, just as the touch of a hand harms the delicate apple of the eye.

This high spiritual status was achieved only after He gave them the inheritance of the Torah. For this reason, the verse first says 'He cared for him' (yevonenehu, instructing him in Torah) and only afterward says 'He kept him as the apple of His eye.' This concept also explains the underlying reason for the negative commandments, which protect this delicate spiritual state. Understand this.

Alternatively, the words 'He cared for him, He kept him' (yevonenehu yitzrenhu) can be understood in light of what Chazal said in Tractate Berachot 54b: Three categories of people require special protection, and one of them is a Torah scholar (talmid chacham). The reason for this is that the damaging spiritual forces are envious of the high stature of a Torah scholar and provoke him.

To address this, the verse says 'yevonenehu', meaning He gives him the Torah, which is called understanding (tevunah) in Proverbs 2:11. Because He has elevated him to this level, He must then take responsibility to guard him, as it says, 'He kept him' (yitzrenhu), protecting him from those envious forces.

בְּפִשְׁטוּת · In plain words

The Ohr HaChaim explains that Hashem found Israel in Egypt when it was spiritually desolate and filled with impurity. He protected them from being absorbed by the impurity and shielded them during the plagues. By giving them the Torah, He elevated them to a refined spiritual state, making them as sensitive to spiritual harm as the delicate apple of an eye is to physical touch. This high spiritual status requires the ongoing protection of the commandments and special divine guardianship.

לְמַעֲשֶׂה · Lemaaseh

The Ohr HaChaim connects the prohibitions of the Torah with guarding the spiritual sensitivity that Torah gives us. When a prohibition feels like a restriction, consider what it protects. Let that perspective help us take care with a particular boundary in our own avodas Hashem.

As an eagle that stirreth up her nest, Hovereth over her young, Spreadeth abroad her wings, taketh them, Beareth them on her pinions,

Or HaChaim on Deuteronomy 32:11:1

"Like an eagle that awakens its nest." The Ohr HaChaim notes Chazal's explanations in the Sifrei, as cited by Rashi, then offers another reading. Vayikra Rabbah 17:4 teaches that when Yisrael violates Hashem's will, judgment does not strike at their lives first. It begins by awakening a person through afflictions of the house, then of the clothing, before going further.

That is how he reads the eagle awakening its nest: Hashem awakens His children. The awakening is also measured to what they can bear. He cites Bereishis Rabbah 55:2, that Hashem tests a person only according to the measure he is capable of bearing.

כְּנֶשֶׁר יַעִיר קִנּוּ. רַ"ל (ספרי) דָּרְשׁוּ מַה שֶּׁדָּרְשׁוּ בּוֹ, (עֵינֵי רַשִׁי ז"ל) וְחוּץ מִדְּבָרֵיהֶם יִתְבָּאֵר עַל דֶּרֶךְ אֲמָרָם ז"ל (ויקרא רבה יז:ד) כִּי כְּשִׁי שֶׁרָאֵל עוֹבְרִים רְצוֹנוֹ אֵין בַּעַל הַדִּין נוֹגֵעַ בְּנַפְשׁוֹת תַּחֲלָה אֶלָּא מִתְחִיל לְהַעִירוֹ בְּנִגְעֵי בָתִּים אַחֵר כֹּה בְּנִגְעֵי בְּגָדִים וְכוּ'; וְהוּא מֵאֲמַר "כְּנֶשֶׁר יַעִיר קִנּוּ" כִּמּוֹ כֵּן ה' מְעוֹרֵר בְּנָיו, גַּם מְעוֹרֵרָם כְּפִי הִיכָלָת שְׂיוֹכְלוֹ עֲמוּד בּוֹ, כְּאֲמָרָם ז"ל (בראשית רבה נח:ב) שֶׁאֵין ה' מְנַסֶּה הָאָדָם אֶלָּא בְּשִׁעוֹר שְׂיוֹכֵל לְסָבוֹל.

And the verse's statement, He spreads His wings, is understood in light of the Sages' teaching in the Sifrei on Devarim 3:29 that Hashem's right hand is constantly stretched out to receive those who return. If, through the awakening that Hashem stirs up within Israel, they are moved to return in repentance, His right hand is immediately stretched out to welcome them. The Torah uses the future tense to convey this sequence: the very reason He spreads His wings from the outset is in order to gather in the Jewish person who returns in repentance. Were it not for this goal of receiving the penitent, He would not have spread His wings at all.

וְאָמְרוּ "פֶּרֶשׁ כַּנְפָיו" וְגו', עַל דֶּרֶךְ אֲמָרָם
(ספרי דברים ג, כט) יָמִינוּ פְּשׁוּטָה לְקַבֵּל
שָׁבִים, שָׁאֵם עַל יַד הָעֶרְהָ שְׁיַעִיר ה'
לְיִשְׂרָאֵל יִתְעוֹרְרוּ לָשׁוּב בְּתִשְׁבּוּבָה, תִּכְרַךְ

בְּשִׁבְלִי שְׁיִקְחֵהוּ לְאִישׁ יִשְׂרָאֵל הַחוּזֵר
בְּתִשְׁבּוּבָה, שְׁוִילֵת זֶה לֹא הִיא פֶּרֶשׁ כַּנְפָיו.

And the verse's statement, He carries him on His wing, can be understood based on the Sages' teaching in Tikkunei Zohar, Tikkun 70, page 131a, on the verse in Kohelet 10:20, The winged one will tell the matter. They explain that there is a specific class of angels called possessors of wings. Their sacred service is to carry aloft on their wings every good word and blessing of Hashem that comes out of the mouth of a Jewish person. This is the meaning of, He carries him on His wing, meaning that He carries upward the spiritual goodness that comes from the person.

יִשְׂאֵהוּ עַל אֲבִרְתּוֹ – וְאָמְרוּ "יִשְׂאֵהוּ" וְגו',

בְּפִשְׁטוּת · In plain words

The Ohr HaChaim reads the eagle's awakening of its nest as Hashem's measured call to teshuvah. Judgment begins with a person's surroundings, and the test is within his capacity. The spreading wings express Hashem's readiness to receive one who returns. The final image, carrying on a wing, refers to angels who carry upward a Jew's good words and blessings of Hashem.

Respond to an opportunity for teshuvah with the knowledge that Hashem is ready to receive you. The Ohr HaChaim explains that His outstretched hand is there to welcome the person who returns. Choose one thing to correct, and begin the return rather than letting discouragement delay it.

The LORD alone did lead him, And there was no strange god with Him.

Or HaChaim on Deuteronomy 32:12:1

"Hashem alone will lead him." The Ohr HaChaim explains this through Midrash Tanchuma, Tzav 7, on Hoshea 4:17: "Ephraim is joined to idols; leave him alone." Chazal read this as a teaching about unity. When Yisrael is united, even the presence of idolatry does not bring immediate punishment. Hanach lo, "leave him alone," expresses granting rest or relief, like the relief granted to the provinces in Esther. He therefore reads badad as the people being one unit: when they are united, Hashem leads them.

Source note: the Hebrew edition prints Esther 2:11 beside "he granted relief to the provinces." The quoted words are in Esther 2:18. The Hebrew is reproduced unchanged.

ה' בָּדַד יְנַחֵנוּ. יִתְפָּאֵר עַל דֶּרֶךְ אֱמָרָם
וְכִרְוָנָם לְבָרְכָהּ (תנחומא, צו ז) בַּפֶּסוּק
(הושע ד:יז) "חֲבוּר עֲצָבִים אֶפְרַיִם הֵנִיחַ לוֹ",
כְּשִׁישְׂרָאֵל יֵשׁ בֵּינֵיהֶם אַחָדוּת אֲפִלּוּ עוֹבְדֵי
עֲבוּדָה זָרָה הֵנִיחַ לוֹ, פֶּרוּשׁ עַל דֶּרֶךְ (אסתר
ב:יא) "וַהֲנַחָה לַמְּדִינּוֹת עֲשֶׂה", וְהוּא אָמַר
"ה' בָּדַד" פֶּרוּשׁ כְּשֶׁהָעָם בָּדַד לְשׁוֹן בַּד – ה'
יְנַחֵנוּ.

He continues this reading with "and there is no foreign god with him." Although idolatry is present, Hashem does not count that sin against them by punishing them in this situation. The Ohr HaChaim compares the negative wording with Chazal's reading in Sukkah 41a of "No one seeks her" (Yirmiyahu 30:17). His text summarizes that inference as "this implies that she has [one who seeks her]." He uses the comparison here to read "there is none with him" as implying that a foreign god is in fact present, but Hashem is not punishing the people for it.

For clarity, the Gemara itself phrases its inference as "she requires seeking." The Ohr HaChaim's point here is that the negative wording carries an implication beyond its surface meaning; he is explaining the withholding of punishment, not permitting idolatry.

וְאֵין עִמּוֹ אֵל נֹכַר – פְּרוּשׁ, הַגִּם שֶׁהֵם עוֹבְדֵי
עֲבוֹדָה זָרָה אֵין ה' מְחַשֵּׁב לוֹ עוֹן זֶה.
וּמֵאֲמַר "אֵין עִמּוֹ" תִּתְּפָרֵשׁ עַל דֶּרֶךְ
שֶׁדָּרְשׁוּ זְכוּרֵנָם לְבָרָכָה (סוּכָה מֵא).
בְּפֶסוּק (יִרְמְיָה ל:יז) "דּוֹרֵשׁ אֵין לָהּ",
מִכָּלֵל שֶׁיֵּשׁ לָהּ, כְּמוֹ כֵּן בְּמָה שֶׁלִּפְנֵינוּ
אָמַר "אֵין עִמּוֹ" מִכָּלֵל שֶׁיֵּשׁ עִמּוֹ, אֶלָּא
שֶׁאֵין ה' מְסַרֵּו עַל זֶה.

He then offers a different explanation. When will "Hashem alone lead him"? When the element of evil has come to an end within Yisrael. On this reading, "there is no foreign god with him" means that the evil attached to a person through Adam's sin has been removed. For clarity, this follows the earlier discussion of evil becoming mixed with good through Adam HaRishon's sin. The two readings are distinct: the first discusses unity despite sin, while this one describes guidance after that evil is gone.

עוֹד יִרְצֶה עַל זֶה הַדֶּרֶךְ: אֵימָתִי "ה' בִּדְדִּי
יִנְחֵנוּ"? כְּשֶׁנִּגְמַר חֶלֶק הָרַע מִיִּשְׂרָאֵל, וְהוּא
אָמַר "וְאֵין עִמּוֹ אֵל נֹכַר", שֶׁהוּא חֶלֶק
הָרַע הַדְּבִיק בְּאָדָם מִחֲטֵא הָאָדָם, וְהַמְשָׁכִיל
דְּבִי:

בפשוט · In plain words

The Ohr HaChaim offers two readings. The first emphasizes the protective force of unity: Hashem withholds punishment even while serious sin is present. The second describes a different condition, in which the evil that entered through Adam's sin has been removed and Hashem alone leads Yisrael.

Make one effort toward peace with another Jew, such as speaking respectfully where a disagreement has become tense. The Ohr HaChaim draws attention to the value of unity even when people are far from perfect. We can work on that unity while still taking our own teshuvah seriously.
